HOW

HORSE OWNER'S WORKSHOP

Van Hargis is known as one of the most versatile horsemen/clinicians in the business today. Van has trained and competed in the show arena in events ranging from reining to calf roping, and competed in the rodeo arena in the timed events. In keeping with his responsibilities on his horse and cattle ranch in Texas, he keeps in constant training of his own foundation bred quarter horses such as those he takes on the road with him to the many clinics and expositions throughout the country. Training horses for Van all started over 25 years ago for the wife of world-renowned saddle maker Billy Cook. Van's practical experiences in the show ring, rodeo arena and on the ranch coupled with a dynamic speaking ability have made him one of the most exciting presenters and requested clinicians. Van's ability to use the horse to educate, motivate, inspire and entertain will encourage you to take a long look at your life, your relationships, and your horsemanship. His versatility stems from his ability to deliver an exciting educational, motivational, inspirational and entertaining program to audiences regardless of the setting or the topic. Van believes in empowering the horse and the horseman to help each other in forming a relationship that focuses on success. It is because of his ability and emphasis to always remain true to the horse that he has been given the title: "Van Hargis, the true horseman."

Van Hargis will demonstrate how you can communicate with your horse through mind, body and movement in a way your horse will understand. Topics may include, "Dealing with Obstacles and the Spooky Horse," "How to Catch the Hard to Catch Horse," "The Three Steps to Stopping," "Understanding Horse Talk," and "The Versatile Horse." Audience participation is encouraged. Van will answer your questions to help you become more effective in dealing with your horse.
